IMPORTS OF POTASH.

German Embargo Caused Decrease of 21 Per Cent Last Year.

The shortage of potash salts, used as a fertilizer in the United States was still further accentuated by the German embargo placed on the export of these salts in January, according to a statement given out by the United States geological survey.

In spite of the interruptions to the normal trade in potash salts due to the war, the imports of these salts into the United States during 1914 amounted to 485,815,459 pounds, the statement continues. But these figures represent a decrease in the quantity and value of the potash salts imported amounting to 21 per cent as compared with the imports for the year 1913.

SUIT FOR INJUNCTION ARGUED.

Request Made for Construction of "Labor" Clauses of Clayton Law.
The first request for a construction of the "labor" clauses of the Clayton anti-trust law was made to the Supreme Court yesterday in the oral argument of a suit for an injunction against interference with trade in non-union manufactured woodwork in New York city.

The suit, begun under the Sherman anti-trust law, was appealed to the Supreme Court after the passage of the Clayton act. Attorneys for open shop manufacturers argued they were entitled to an injunction under the new law.

Counsel for the carpenters' union denied that the law was applicable or that an injunction should be issued if it did apply.
